Harbor Golfers To Hold Tourney

A Torrance golfer may be the first champion of the Harbor District. It was announced today by E. J. Amar, chairman of the Galloping Tuna club, which is to sponsor a Los Angeles Harbor District golf tournament starting May 16. "There are several golfers in Torrance who might win the championship and there are several other golfers who might win prizes in any of the other flights," Amar said. It is planned to start the qualifying rounds May 16 and to close them the evening of May 24. Match play will start May 25 and each match must be played within one week's time. The finals in each flight will be played June 21, when a record crowd is expected to gather for the affair at the Royal Palms Country club, White Point.

With golfers entering from Torrance, Lomita, Harbor City, Wilmington and San Pedro as well as the fleet anchored at San Pedro, it is expected that between 150 and 200 will compete for the long list of prizes.

Aged Harbor City Man at Trail's End

Last rites for George Walter Bramwell, 77-year-old resident of Harbor City, who passed away suddenly April 29 at his home, 26320 President avenue, were held at Stone and Myers chapel Monday afternoon. The latter day Salmis church had charge of the services.

The body was accompanied by Mrs. Isabel Bramwell in Ogden, Utah, for interment. Besides his wife, the survivors are seven sons and one daughter.

May 9 and 10 Last Days of Ramona Play

Final performances of the 1961 season of the spectacular Ramona Pageant will be given in the Ramona Bowl at Hemet by the cast of 206 persons next Saturday and Sunday, May 9 and 10. These performances are in addition to the regular pageant season of three week-ends and are given because of popular demand. Thousands of persons who were unable to witness the play the second week-end of the season because of weather conditions have made reservations for these final showings.

The big cast has been held intact and Director Phil Whiting has predicted that the final performances will be even better from the dramatic and artistic standpoints than those which won such unanimous acclaim earlier in the season. The Ramona Pageant attendance this season is expected to establish a new record of more than 30,000.

The Ramona Pageant is a dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's famous novel of early California Indian and Spanish life and is presented by the people of Hemet and San Jacinto as a community enterprise because it was in this vicinity that Mrs. Jackson gathered much of the material for her story and it was here that many of the characters of the book actually lived. The Ramona Bowl, a natural amphitheater at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto, has a seating capacity of 6000, and the cast this year is the finest that has ever presented the play.

Being "Proper" Means Being Common in "Skippy"

One of the extra and odd little problems "incurred" in the Paramount filming of "Skippy," Percy Crosby cartoon creation which will open a three days' engagement Sunday at the Torrance theater, was the assembling of 30 correct and proper puppets.

Not correct and proper in the applied social sense of the words, but a score and a half of tail-waggers as congenial as they were scrappy. They had to get along modestly and pleasantly without exhibiting any tendency to "hog" the lens—and finding them was no easy task.

Thrilling Fight Is Climax of "Ladies' Man"

Two human forms swaying, thus escape 38 stories above the street. A grim combat that can terminate only in death for one of them.

That is the thrilling ante-climax of William Powell's latest Paramount production, "Ladies' Man," which comes to the Fox Redondo theater with an added feature, "The Spy" on Sunday and Monday, May 10 and 11.

The story leading up to this tragic struggle high up near the roof of one of New York's large hotels, is a story of a New York Don Juan who gains a livelihood by falling in love with the type of woman who feels no scruples against showering lavish gifts upon him.

William Powell plays the role of this famous character as delineated in Rupert Hughes' well-known Cosmopolitan magazine serial of the same name. Kay Francis leads the support.

Miss Laura Turcott, chief officer at Torrance telephone office, is away on a leave of absence and Miss Martha Parkins of San Pedro is relieving her during her absence.

Mrs. I. L. Farman visited with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Lingens, recently while her husband, Lieut. I. L. Farman, left for Seattle to pilot a new army plane home from Boeing Field, Seattle.

Miss Marie Bernthul of Los Angeles spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. M. Louise Lynch, Sterling Park, an old time Alaska friend of the late Mr. Lynch, and Mrs. Lynch spent Sunday there.

Bobby Jones' Golf Series Opens Sun.

Bobby Jones, world's premier golfer, whose talkie series opens at Warner Bros. San Pedro Sunday.

Bobby Jones, golf champion of champions, had two aims in mind when he signed to make a series of 12 one-reel golf instruction pictures for Warner Bros., he declared in a recent interview in Hollywood. The first of this series opens at Warner Bros. San Pedro Sunday, May 10.

One was to improve the duffer's game.

The other was to interest young boys and girls in the game he loves.

"There are two things that I had in mind when I signed to make this series of pictures," Jones said. "One, that of being of probable aid to the duffer in the demonstrating of various swings in golf, and the other of endeavoring to encourage boys and girls to become interested in a game that I love, the only sport, in fact, in which I ever seriously indulged."

"It is patent that a player can not see himself in action. He doesn't know when he is making a swing whether the shoulder is high or the hip low; whether his arms are at the proper angles; whether he has committed the unpardonable sin of looking up before his clubhead meets the ball. He has to rely solely on the result of the shot to prove that his motions are assuming the same groove."

We propose by this series of pictures to preserve what golf form has come after years of studious application to the game, and we are trusting that it will be of help to those who are trying to improve their game and an incentive to young people to adopt it both as a recreation, entertainment and an outlet for juvenile spirits.

Program of Outstanding Merit All Week

Thrills and timeliness mark "The Finger Points," Richard Barthelme's newest starring picture showing Friday and Saturday at the Fox Plaza. The story is based on a recent sensational crime case in one of America's biggest cities, with Barthelme as the reporter who becomes involved with the underworld. Fay Wray is the feminine lead. An Andy Clyde comedy, "The Dog Doctor," is one of the featured short subjects.

For Sunday only the Fox Plaza will offer a special return engagement of Richard Dix in Edna Ferber's "Carron." This picture is being brought back for a repeat run in answer to numerous requests.

Monday and Tuesday brings Olson and Johnson, famous comedy team of stage and screen, in "Fifty Million Frenchmen," a comedy romance with plenty of laughs. An Eddie Gribbon comedy, and a Paramount pictorial are also offered. For Wednesday and Thursday, two complete features will be offered for one admission in the program of Marion Davies in "It's a Wise Child," and Edmund Lowe in "Men on Call." One picture being mostly comedy and the other dramatic and romantic makes up a well balanced program.

For Friday and Saturday of next week, the screen's two titlits are at it again as Robert Woolsey and Bert Wheeler come to the Fox Plaza for two days in their latest picture, "Cracked Nuts."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sans, 1511 Amapola, expect to leave soon on a trip to Oklahoma and Texas, where they will visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. Mitt's young ladies' class of the Baptist church had an enjoyable evening at the Redondo plunge last Tuesday. Afterwards the party returned to their teacher's home for refreshments and election of new officers.
